First Ashada Friday tomorrow

No entry for private vehicles to Ch. Hill for 5 days

- On June 23 & 30, July 7, 14 & 10 (Chamundeshwari Vardhanti)
- KSRTC to run 50 free buses to ferry devotees to Hill Temple

Mysuru, June 22 (DM)- In view of the large number of devotees flocking to Chamundeshwari Temple during Ashada Fridays scheduled for June 23, June 30, July 7 and July 14, besides Chamundeshwari Vardhanti that falls on July 10 (Monday), the City Police have issued orders banning the entry of private vehicles to Chamundi Hill on Ashada Fridays and Chamundeshwari Vardhanti. The devotees wishing to visit Chamundi Hill Temple on the above days will have to board free KSRTC buses operating from the foothill.

In an order issued on Wednesday, City Police Commissioner B. Ramesh said that the devotees can park their vehicles at Lalitha Mahal grounds and board the buses to reach the Hill temple. KSRTC will operate buses from 3 am to 10 pm on these days from Lalitha Mahal grounds.

Private vehicles proceeding to Chamundi Hill will be stopped at Tavarekatte, Uttanahalli Road and Indus Valley Ayurvedic Centre (IVAC) Junction. However, exemption will be given to vehicles of VIPs as per protocol.

The KSRTC buses to Chamundeshwari Temple from the foothill will proceed via Lalithadripura and IVAC Road before reaching the bus stop atop Chamundi Hill, where the devotees will have to alight.

On the return trip from the Hill, KSRTC buses will start from the bus stop and pass through Tavarekatte and Sangolli Rayanna Circle, before taking a right turn at Lalitha Mahal Helipad Y-Junction on Lalitha Mahal Main Road to reach Lalitha Mahal grounds.

Meanwhile, vehicles of VIPs, which are permitted atop Chamundi Hill as per protocol, will have to be parked at the multi-level parking lot. No vehicle will be allowed beyond multi-level parking to the temple.

City Cops get four more patrolling vehicles

- Total eight vehicles to attend complaints in a speedy way
- Dial Emergency Response Support System No. 112

Mysuru, June 22 (RK&BCT)- Response of Police vehicles patrolling various parts of the city including the Highway will be speedier henceforth, with the Police rushing to one's distress call in the Mysuru City Police Commissionerate limits in just a couple of minutes.

Those in need can call single emergency No. 112, the Emergency Response Support System (ERSS).

In an attempt to curb crimes including robberies, accidents, clashes and also incidents of chain-snatching, the Mysuru City Police has recently acquired four additional high-tech vehicles, bringing the total number of vehicles dedicated to monitoring the Outer Ring Road (ORR) to eight.

The vehicles were inducted into service by the City Police Commissioner Ramesh Banoth on June 16 at the City Armed Reserve (CAR) grounds and they have started functioning from this morning.

These patrol vehicles have been deployed for surveillance along the 42.3 km Ring Road, which has become a hub for over-speeding, crime and illegal activities.

The arrival of four more vehicles assumes significance as the Mysuru city limits are growing with the addition of newer areas along the Ring Road. Moreover, there are plans to construct the Peripheral Ring Road that will circumambulate the Ring Road.

Allow us to open till 11.30 pm: Hoteliers

Mysuru, June 22 (BLU&KS)- Mysuru Hotel Owners Association has questioned City Police's decision to shut hotels at 10.30 pm. Association President C. Narayanagowda has written to City Police Chief Ramesh Banoth, urging him to allow hotels to open till 11.30 pm, as in earlier system. Narayanagowda highlighted that thousands of tourists visit Mysuru and stay overnight. Closing hotels at 10.30 pm deprives tourists of access to food. Bars and restaurants are open until 11.30 pm, raising the question of why hotels, serving food, should be closed early. In Bengaluru, hotels are permitted to remain open until 1 am. The Association has not demanded permission to stay open until 1 am but must be allowed to operate until 11.30 pm.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

The Power of Good', the DH tagline, is a simple phrase but leaves one overawed by the depth of its meaning. The power of good is indeed infinite. While talking about it, I am reminded of an episode in the Mahabharata that details the inner meaning of this line, which lies nestled deep within and shines forth like a jewel, just like the stars twinkling above to light up the ink-dark night sky.

Let's come back to the story of Mahabharata. The two cousins, Yudhishtira and Duryodhana, are sent out to understand the ways of the world around them. Kunti putra, Yudhishtra, comes back saying all about is good while Gandhari putra, Duryodhana, with his sight clouded with negativity says that the world around is evil.

To continue in the same vein, one is reminded of a memorable parable which goes like this: Two men looked through the bars; one saw the mud, the other saw the stars. One can bemoan one's fate while going through difficult times; one can curse Lady Luck for favouring others while leaving one behind in life's rat race. But another only looks upon every incident as a learning experience from which one emerges stronger, braver and definitely wiser by far.

Sometimes, in running a race, if you are left behind while the winner breasts the tape triumphantly, choose to look at the situation differently. Say to yourself that life is not merely about winning. As the Bhagavad Gita proclaims, it is about attaining sattva, seeking shreyas, while abandoning the fruit of karma at the feet of the Divine. That alone will ultimately lead to the attainment of sat-chit-ananda.

Last but not the least, remember the famous picture of a man suspended on a cliff at the halfway juncture. One can say he is rappelling down or climbing upwards. An optimist will most certainly say he is halfway to the peak. This incident conveys a world of meaning about life too. One can see the world as one sees a glass — half empty or half full. In the end, one would be wise in perusing and mulling over this quote by Churchill: "An optimist is one who finds an opportunity in every difficulty whereas the pessimist sees a difficulty in every opportunity." Choose to be an optimist and realise the power of good. — Anuradha Rajan in Deccan Herald

Missing tortoise turns up two years later

Northumberland: A tortoise has turned up two years after it went missing from its home — and the pet's family is glad and relieved to have her back.

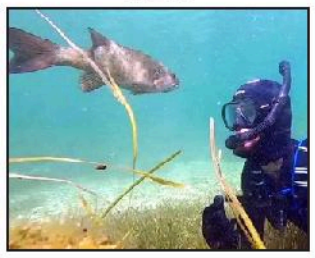
Jemima the tortoise, aged 50, managed to make a "slow getaway" from the home of Charles Waddell in May 2021, leaving the man's eight-year-old daughter, Beatrice, devastated.

The family, of Haydon Bridge, Northumberland, England, spent months looking for Jemima every day, as well as posting about her on social media.

Eventually the family gave up hope of seeing their beloved pet ever again, until a Facebook post surfaced last week about the discovery of a tortoise and its transport to a veterinarian.

After phoning the veterinarian's office and sending over a picture of Jemima, the family was "stunned" when Jemima's identity was confirmed. Daughter Beatrice, who is now 10 years old, has been happily reunited with Jemima.

Man makes friends with fish



Wisconsin: A Wisconsin man has created an unlikely bond with a wild fish and the two "meet" every summer at the same spot.

Rex Colubra, 40, became "friends" with the fresh water smallmouth bass while on a dive in September 2021. The strange encounter ended with the pair creating a bond — and Colubra even named the fish Elvis.

The man and the fish now "see" each other each year when Colubra travels to the lake where Elvis the fish lives.

A print-shop worker and animal enclosure maker, Colubra says his "friend" gets jealous if other fish get too close to him. Colubra will not reveal which lake Rex lives, in order to protect him from fishermen. "There's not much I can do to protect him. It's the risk he runs every year," he added.

Delay in arrival and departure of trains: Will Railways rectify?

Sir,

Of late, the arrival and departure of various trains at Mysuru and its suburban stations are very erratic. Besides the long halts of the so-called Super Fast Mysuru-Mayiladuthurai Express at a couple of unscheduled stations between Mysuru and KSR, the Tumakuru-Chamarajanagar passenger (07346) too faces twin crossings (06234 & 06275), either at Ashokapuram or Kadakola each day that cause abnormal delay.

On June 19, this train (07346) was impounded for almost 50 minutes at the Ashokapuram Station — reasons unknown. In such cases, should not the station staff make an announcement for the passengers? Don't the commuters have a right to know the reason? On behalf of thousands of train travellers, I appeal to the station-in-charge officers concerned to announce the delay with reason and the Railways to rectify the problem.

Watch your words,

Pratap Simha tells Satish Jarkiholi

Pratap Simha

Mysuru, June 22 (BLU&BS)- Following the remark of PWD Minister Satish Jarkiholi that the Central Government has 'hacked' the server of Seva Sindhu portal thus downing the speed of the software to upload applications for 'Gruha Jyothi scheme', Mysuru and Kodagu MP Pratap Simha has asked the Minister to apply caution before making any comments for political reasons.

Speaking to media persons after the International Day of Yoga (IDY) celebrations at Mysore Palace premises yesterday, Simha, referring to Jarkiholi, said: "You are the honourable Minister of the Government and should not resort to make comments in the name of politics. Your mere statement will bring disrepute to Karnataka. Better you shouldn't find yourself in an embarrassing situation with this statement."

"You are not aware of many things but you stand first in issuing ridiculous statements. This is nothing but insult to Karnataka. It is not possible to hack servers and as a representative of Karnataka Government, Satish Jarkiholi must stop embarrassing Karnataka," Pratap Simha said.

'Your ridiculous statements as a representative of Karnataka Govt. are embarrassing'

On the recent statement of Large and Medium Industries and Infrastructure Minister M.B. Patil that he will not speak about him (Simha), the MP said: "I also won't comment if M.B. Patil practises the same. He is a Minister whom I respect a lot. Only our works should speak about us."

To the burning issue of Centre coming in the way of 'Anna Bhagya' scheme of Karnataka, by deliberately denying the supply of additional quantity of rice, Simha said: "There are 29 States and seven Union Territories in the country, but no other States are complaining like Karnataka. Instead of pointing fingers at the Central Government, better keep your promise by buying rice in open market. Don't devote your entire time to abuse Prime Minister Narendra Modi."

Simha who called all the hue and cry of Congress over rice as a drama, especially Chief Minister Siddharamaiah, said: "Better stop your drama and buy paddy grown by our State farmers and give to the people. We know whom you want to appease and also understand your mindset."

ASHA workers protest assault on colleague

Mysuru, June 22 (MTY&DM)- Strongly condemning the assault on a colleague during a survey in H.D. Kote taluk, hundreds of ASHA (Accredited Social Health Activist) workers, under the joint banner of Rajya Samyukta ASHA Karyakarteyara Sangha and AITUC (All India Trade Union Centre), staged a protest in front of the office of the District Health Officer (DHO) in Nazarbad on Wednesday. They demanded strict action against the culprit.

The protesters highlighted that ASHA workers assigned to carry out the Health and Nutrition Survey (HNS) are feeling insecure and criticised the Health Department for negligence in addressing attacks on ASHA workers.

They specifically mentioned an incident where an ASHA worker was assaulted while performing her duties in Annur, H.D. Kote taluk. They demanded that the Police register an FIR against the culprit and accused the authorities of attempting to suppress the case. To ensure the safety of ASHA workers, they called for the Health Department to deploy them in teams rather than as individuals. Additionally, the ASHA workers urged the government to fulfil their long-standing demands.

DHO Dr. K.H. Prasad received a memorandum from the protesters and assured them that a circular would be issued to send ASHA workers in teams for conducting the Survey.

The protest was attended by Sangha Office-bearers Seema, Bhagya, Manila, Komala, Sunitha, Hema and others.

Rare moment as Sub-Inspector dad passes baton to daughter

Mandya Central Police Station becomes a witness to the bond between a father and daughter

Mandya/Mysuru, June 22 (BCT)- Children naturally follow the profession of their parents. It brings immense joy to the parents especially when their children surpass their parents' occupation and reach greater heights. The Mandya Police Department witnessed such a rare incident.

In a heart-warming incident at Mandya Central Police Station on June 20, a lady officer, who became a PSI (Police Sub-Inspector), took charge from her father who was performing his duties as a PSI before the transfer order came. The special moment was celebrated with sweets and warm hugs.

B.S. Venkatesh greeting his daughter B.V. Varsha with a bouquet.

B.S. Venkatesh, a resident of Huliyurdurga in Tumakuru, was serving as a PSI at the Central Police Station. Now, his daughter has become the PSI in the same position and Venkatesh happily congratulated his daughter for accepting the responsibility.

One generation to next

This father-daughter duo found themselves at a unique juncture where the baton of responsibility was passed down from one generation to the next, within the same office. The transition symbolises not only the bond between a father and daughter but also their shared commitment to serving the community through their roles in law enforcement.

Venkatesh served in the Army for the past 16 years and after retirement, he wrote the PSI exam and got appointed to the Police Department. For the past year, he had been serving as a PSI at the Central Police Station.

Meanwhile, his daughter B.V. Varsha cleared the PSI exam in the 2022 batch and till then, she had been serving as a probationary PSI. She has accepted the responsibility as a PSI at the Central Police Station, where her father was serving. Venkatesh has now been transferred to the Mandya SP Office as a training officer and will train the young recruits henceforth.

From Army to Police

After retiring from military service, he cleared the PSI exam in 2010 under the ex-serviceman quota. He has served in various places in Mandya, Mysuru, Kodagu, and Chamarajanagar and had previously undergone training at Mandya Central Police Station.

Varsha completed her training in Kalaburagi and it is her first posting in Mandya. Notably, she started her Police career by receiving PSI training from her father himself. Varsha holds a Master's degree in Economics as well.

While in the Army for 16 years, Venkatesh, in addition to carrying out duties in the border areas of Pakistan, China and Bangladesh, he also participated in the Kargil War.

Dad, an inspiration

Expressing his joy, Venkatesh shared his happiness in handing over the charge to his daughter. He proudly acknowledged Varsha's hardwork and dedication, as she successfully secured the position of PSI on her very first attempt. Varsha said, "I consider myself fortunate to have taken charge from my father. I draw inspiration from my dad's exemplary career and will follow in his footsteps as an upright officer."

Srivatsa has said no to garlands and bouquets and has insisted on receiving notebooks — as a goodwill gesture — to be distributed among the needy children.

T. S. Srivatsa

It is a practice to felicitate the MLA and local elected representatives with garland and shawl while performing 'guddali puja' for any works or during any felicitation events. Srivatsa has sent a message to the contractors who invite him for the launch of works to make a change in regular practice. "Don't bring any garlands or bouquets, instead bring at least 10 notebooks which I will collect and distribute among the needy children at Government schools and colleges which will also bring 'punya' to you," he said.

As per the MLA's directive, contractors have started giving notebooks to Srivatsa and on Tuesday, the new system was put into practice during the 'guddali puja' for laying interlock tiles at S.N. Pandit Galli on Uttaradi Mutt Road, Agrahara.

This precedent of the MLA has come in for praise from the general public who have described it as a novel decision to avoid spending hundreds of rupees on garlands, but help the educational needs of the children. Srivatsa said, "Garlands won't last for more than 30 seconds. Also, there is no need for so many shawls. Do not bring garlands and shawls during any ceremonies. Instead, bring notebooks, which I will give away to children," he noted.

It may be mentioned that, Chief Minister Siddharamaiah recently appealed to bring books while meeting him, desisting from the normal practice of bringing garlands and bouquets. Since then, the new practice is in force at all the public functions. In the backdrop of CM's appeal, Forest Minister Eshwar Khandre and Health & Family Welfare Minister Dinesh Gundurao, MLAs Hampanagouda Badarli and Kudligi N.T. Srinivas have also followed suit.

Recently in Mysuru, Gundlupet MLA H.M. Ganesh Prasad put up a board on the gate of his house in Kuvempunagar with a similar appeal. In 2019, the then CM B.S. Yediyurappa had given a call to refrain from bringing bouquets and garlands to meet him. Even while celebrating his birthday in 2020, Yediyurappa had made an appeal against lavish spending as he was content with the good wishes of the people, terming it as a bigger gift than others.

District Administration gears up for first Ashada Friday tomorrow

KSRTC to run free buses for devotees from Lalitha Mahal grounds to Chamundeshwari Hill Temple

Mysuru, June 22 (MTY&DM)- With thousands of devotees from all parts of the State and elsewhere expected to visit Sri Chamundeshwari Temple atop Chamundi Hill during Ashada Fridays (June 23, June 30, July 7 and July 14), the District Administration is fully geared up to meet the devotee rush on the first Ashada Friday tomorrow.

The District Administration, in association with Chamundi Hill Temple Administration, has made all arrangements for the pujas and rituals right from 4 am tomorrow. The devotees will be allowed inside the Hill Temple only after the completion of all pujas as per past traditions.

Anticipating huge rush this time, the KSRTC will deploy 50 free buses to ferry devotees from Lalitha Mahal grounds to the Hilltop, starting from as early as 3 am tomorrow.

In the past, the KSRTC used to generally deploy about 35 buses. This apart, the KSRTC, based on the demand, has planned to operate additional services from the City Bus Stand and also from select localities of the city, for which buses devotees have to pay the stipulated fare.

Atop the Hill, the Chamundeshwari Temple authorities have made arrangements for smooth darshan all through the day. Three separate lines will be formed for temple entry — One for Dharmadarshan, another for Rs. 50 ticket holders and yet another for Rs. 300 ticket holders.

The District Administration has made the required arrangements for prasada distribution at the multi-level parking lot, which is the only spot for distribution by the temple.

However, organisations and individuals, who want to distribute prasada can do so after getting certification, at the old vehicle parking lot running down the Mahishasura Statue. Police have made elaborate security arrangements atop the Hill and barricades have been placed at many points as a measure of crowd control. About 60 CCTV cameras have been installed at vantage points atop the Hill.

Four patrolling vehicles

Ramesh Banoth told Star of Mysore that the vehicles have been deployed for surveillance — to promote a people-friendly environment — along the Ring Road and both civil and traffic personnel have been assigned to duty. "The vehicles will aid in effective policing and patrolling and our main intention is to strengthen the Police beat in city limits," he said.

Vehicles will also patrol strategic locations across the city instead of constantly patrolling the Ring Road and will reach the spot, say if an accident occurs, in less than a few minutes. The vehicles will operate irrespective of jurisdiction. However, old PCR vehicles will also be in use.

The vehicles have been fully customised and equipped with specialised surveillance, communication and monitoring equipment to respond to emergencies. They are designed to patrol and prevent crimes on Highways, ensuring the safety and security of commuters. They have advanced monitoring, control and communication systems.

These vehicles can send live feeds to the Control Room at the Office of the Police Commissioner and also to the jurisdictional Police Stations where head Police officials will be able to keep an eye on the movements.

The patrol teams will conduct regular patrols to identify individuals exhibiting suspicious behaviour and prevent illegal activities, clashes, gambling and other criminal incidents.

Overall, this system and the dedicated team of trained personnel aim to swiftly respond to public emergencies, maintain law and order and address potential threats.

No entry for private vehicles

The ban on entry of vehicles for Ashada Fridays will be enforced from 10 pm the previous day (on Thursdays) and a day prior (Sunday) to Chamundeshwari Vardhanti (July 10, Monday).

The residents of Chamundi Hill will have to produce copies of residential proof documents such as Aadhaar card, Driving Licence, Voter ID, Vehicle Registration etc., at the entrance gate at Tavarekatte for their vehicles to be allowed.

On duty Government vehicles and Police vehicles should be parked only at the Parking Lot-2 earmarked atop the Hill.

The devotees proceeding to Chamundeshwari temple from the steps should park their vehicles at the grounds close to Pinjrapole.

Devotees coming from Lalitadripura side, should park their vehicles at the designated parking lot at Lalitha Mahal grounds.

Those coming from Uttanahalli side, should travel via Nanjangud road and pass through M.L.Somasundaram Circle, Maharana Pratap Singh Circle, Sangolli Rayanna Circle and Lalitha Mahal road to reach Lalitha Mahal grounds, where their vehicles should be parked.

MCCI stages protest over abnormal hike in power tariff

Mysuru, June 22 (RK&KS)- In response to the Karnataka Chamber of Commerce and Industry's (KCCI) Statewide bandh call, opposing the steep rise in electricity charges, the office-bearers of Mysore Chamber of Commerce and Industry (MCCI), who had urged all trade and industrial sectors to shut down their establishments for the day and show solidarity to the bandh staged a protest in front of MCCI Office on D. Devaraj Urs Road this morning.

The protesters said that the steep hike in power tariff had caused a lot of problems causing increase in manufacturing cost which may result in many small and medium industries closing down besides causing unemployment in the State.

This will also cause increase in maintenance cost of shops which could result in shop owners seeking other means to reduce human interventions causing unemployment.

The protesters' demands include preserving the existing fixed charges, reversing the entire fuel adjustment cost, and curbing the exorbitant and illogical surge in energy expenses, ranging between 40 percent and 60 percent.

A few shops on D. Devaraj Urs Road had downed shutters from 10 am to 11 am in support to the protest.

After staging protest in front of MCCI Office, the protesters went to the new DC Office, where they submitted a memorandum to the Additional DC.

MCCI President K.B. Lingaraju, Vice-President R. Anand, Hon. Secretary A.K. Shivaji Rao, Hotel Owners Association President C. Narayanagowda, Nanjangud Industries Association's Ramprasad, Chandrashekar, Petroleum Dealers Association President Shashikala Nagaraj, Pradeep, office-bearers and members of Metagalli Industrial Association and Hebbal Industrial Estate and other organisations were present.

High Court stays appointment of Prof. Lokanath as UoM VC

Bengaluru, June 22 (BLU& DM)- In a setback to the incumbent University of Mysore (UoM) Vice-Chancellor Prof. N.K. Lokanath, the Karnataka High Court on Wednesday stayed the previous BJP Government's order appointing him as the VC of UoM.

N.K. Lokanath

The HC issued the stay order while hearing a writ petition filed by another VC aspirant Prof. Sharath Anantamurthy (son of Jnanapith awardee writer late Prof. U.R. Ananthamurthy).

A single Judge bench of Justice E.S. Indiresh, while issuing the stay order, also served notices to the UoM Chancellor (The State Governor), Secretary of Higher Education Department, the UoM Search Committee and Prof. Lokanath.

Senior Advocate and former State Advocate-General Raviverma Kumar, who argued on behalf of Prof. Sharath Anantamurthy, contended that Prof. Lokanath has been appointed in violation of the Supreme Court ruling on appointment of VCs.

Maintaining that the name of Prof. Lokanath did not figure at all in the list prepared by the Department of Higher Education, Raviverma Kumar argued that Prof. Lokanath was appointed the VC in violation of the norms, despite the fact that he did not have the qualifications specified by the UGC, it is learnt.

After the hearing, Justice Indiresh issued the stay order.

Meanwhile, following the HC order, the Governor, who is also the Chancellor of all State-run Universities, is likely to appoint the senior most Dean of the UoM as Acting VC of UoM soon, according to sources.

Prof. Lokanath had taken over as the Regular VC of UoM on Mar. 24, 2023 from the then Acting VC Prof. Muzaffar H. Assadi, following his appointment by the then BJP Government.

Two children among four murdered in 24 hours

Heinous crime reported from a house in Srirangapatna and a saw mill in Hunsur

Hunsur/ Srirangapatna, June 22 (KK,VK&BCT)- Four murders and one attempt to murder took place in the last 24 hours in Hunsur and Srirangapatna taluks. While two under-five-year-old children were killed by their own father with a hammer near a village in Srirangapatna, one of the two victims in Hunsur is mentally challenged.

The double murder in the saw mill in Hunsur town has left the community in a state of shock. The victims were two watchmen employed at the saw mill. They have been identified as Venkatesh (75) from Kalkunike Ranganatha Layout and Shanmukha (65). The incident occurred at Hunsur town near the Parasayyana Chhatra (shed) on Boti Bazaar Road adjacent to S.S. Sawmill.

Tragically, both individuals were brutally bludgeoned to death on Wednesday night and the assailant used a heavy object to deliver fatal blows to their heads. Shanmukha was reported to be mentally challenged, making this incident even more distressing.

Venkatesh and Shanmukha were known to be engaged in various small tasks in the vicinity. While Venkatesh worked at the same shop, Shanmukh used to sleep near the mill and engage in minor work. The motive behind this heinous crime is yet to be ascertained.

While the primary suspect in this gruesome crime is believed to have ties to the timber mafia operating in the area, the Police are actively investigating all possible angles to solve the case. Local residents said that an organised gang was attempting to steal timber from the saw mill and they wanted to eliminate the watchmen.

Dog squad and fingerprint expert team have arrived and are conducting spot mahazar. Hunsur Town Police have registered a case.

Children killed

A man killed his innocent children due to a family dispute and he also hit his wife who has been admitted to a private hospital in a critical condition.

The incident took place near Maralagala farmhouse in Srirangapatna taluk, Mandya district. The unfortunate children, Adarsha (4) and Amulya (2), were murdered by their own father 29-year-old Shrikant from Kalaburagi.

Police said that the accused used a hammer to hit the heads of the children who died instantly. His wife Lakshmi too was hit and she has sustained severe head injuries. Police said that the incident occurred due to a domestic dispute, starting with the accused's wife being attacked first.

As Lakshmi fell down after being struck by the hammer, the children were also beaten and killed with the same weapon. Lakshmi has been admitted to DRM Hospital in Mysuru in a critical state. Srirangapatna Rural Police have registered a case.

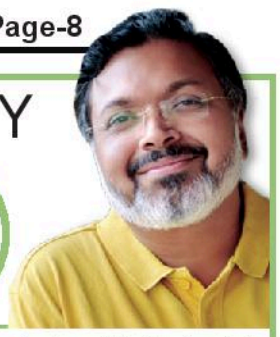
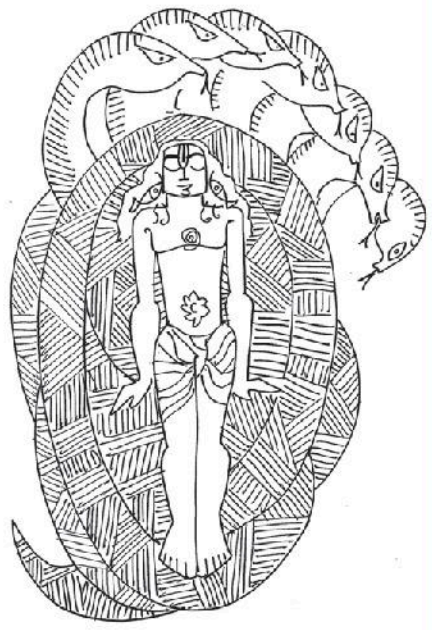
DECODING MYTHOLOGY



Dr. Devdutt Pattanaik - Author, Speaker, Illustrator, Mythologist

Shaped by the Rains



Aryans came from lands north of the Himalayas where there was no monsoon rains. They focused on four quarters of the year, based on the solstices and equinoxes. Bal Gangadhar Tilak pointed out how Vedic hymns refer to long days without sun. He pointed out how great importance was given to dawn, Ushas, who appeared in the sky in spring but did not let the sun rise until summer.

But when the Aryans entered India, they encountered the monsoon rains. Dawn and sun lost their importance to the rain. Suddenly the year was divided into three parts, the pre-monsoon spring and summer, the post-monsoon autumn and winter. So important was the rain that the year (varsh) was identified by the word for rains (varsha). Hymns were composed to the rain-god Paranjaya. In the Vedic Brahmana literature, there is reference to Chaturmasya rituals, performed once every four months: at the start of spring, at the start of rain and at the end of rain.

The story goes that whenever the gods performed rituals, they would get food for the bright half of the lunar cycle. Whenever the ancestors performed sacrifices, they got food for the dark half of the lunar cycle. Whenever humans performed rituals, they got food for the day. But the Asuras were so clever that they could perform a single ritual and get food for the entire year.

This frightened Devas who felt that if the Asuras had food for the entire year, by performing one ritual, they would have ample time to torment them. To prevent this, they began performing rituals every four months so as to deprive the Asuras of food. Thus through trickery, the Asuras were deprived of food and prevented from causing trouble. Humans were then encouraged to perform similar rituals every four months to keep away enemies.

This memory is no longer prevalent in the Hindu community. These rituals were written in Satapatha Brahmana and the Taittiriya Brahmana, which is about 2,800 years old.

Today, when we talk about the rainy season we talk about the four months of Vishnu going to sleep in the rainy season, following the summer solstice and waking up after the autumn equinox. The sleeping and the waking up of Vishnu is celebrated through many rituals. During this time people wonder who will protect the world and this is when the goddess mythology appears. While Vishnu sleeps his sister Yogsmaya guards the world.

Cows, unlike buffaloes, hate walking in the rain as the ground is slippery. They prefer to stand still. Aryans were therefore, forced to stay immobile during the rainy season. Also during this time maintaining the three Vedic fires was next to impossible.

All this may have contributed to the four-monthly ritual cycle. Buddhist and Jain monks also did not travel during the four months of the year. This was the time when people stayed at home and listened to the discourses of the holy men who otherwise avoided staying in one place too long.

The monsoon winds shaped India's trade, with traders coming in with the summer winds and leaving with the winter winds.

Today, we identify the rainy season with flooded cities and bad drainage. But we yearn for the rain. The absence of rain means water shortage, bad harvests and a bad economy. Indian economy, politics, spirituality as well as ritual and festival cycles are firmly connected to the four months of the rains.

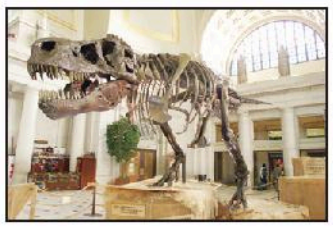
WORD OF THE DAY

Redux



Pronunciation: ree-DUKS.
Meaning: Redux is an adjective that means "brought back," and it is usually used to describe an event or situation that closely resembles something from the past. Redux is always used postpositively, that is, after the word or phrase it describes.
Origin: In English, redux describes things that have been brought back—metaphorically, that is. For example, if the relationship between two nations resembles that of the United States and the Soviet Union in the late 20th century, one might call the situation a "Cold War redux." But a dog brought back home after running away would likely not be called "Buddy redux" going forward. The Latin redux did historically have more literal application, however. For example, the Romans used this sense of redux to characterize the goddess of chance, Fortuna; Fortuna Redux was trusted to bring those far from home back safely. Today, redux is also increasingly used as a noun with a meaning something similar to retread or echo, as in "His latest movie was just a poor redux of his earlier, more visionary work."
Example: "The seismic shift in our economic structure — a world of tech oligarchs with oceans of uber-serfs driving their gig economy — is feudalism redux, according to Joel Kotkin, whose next book is called 'The New Feudalism: The Coming Global Return to the Middle Ages.' 'Following a remarkable epoch of greater dispersion of wealth and opportunity, we are inexorably returning towards a more feudal era marked by greater concentration of wealth and property, reduced upward mobility, demographic stagnation, and increased dogmatism,' Kotkin wrote on his website." — Petula Dvorak, The Anchorage (Alaska) Daily News, 31 Dec. 2021.

THE ODD WORD

Ramate

Branched.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Rome was not built in a day

Meaning: When you say 'Rome was not built in a day' you mean that something is going to take time to complete.
Origin: The origin of the expression 'Rome was not built in a day' is an ancient one, attesting to the fact that it takes time to create things that are worthwhile. One of the first examples was published in France sometime around 1190.
Example: "I heard you're writing a book. When will it be finished?" Answer: "Sometime next year. After all, Rome was not built in a day!"

QUOTE BOX

I had rather be first in a village than second at Rome. —Julius Caesar
